Cuyamaca College President Search

Board President Bill Garrett offered his appreciation to the search committee that brought forward the four finalists for the Cuyamaca College president position. "The next two candidates will be just as impressive and persuasive as the first two," Garrett said. "All bring their own strengths. The differences are always fascinating. I thank the committee for all of its efforts," he said.

Trustee Mary Kay Rosinski said she is enjoying interviews for hiring the Cuyamaca College President. The only sad part will be saying goodbye to interim President Robert Garber.

Trustee Debbie Justeson said two very different candidates had been interviewed for the position so far. "We are collectively trying to find someone who fits best with the Cuyamaca community," Justeson said. She encouraged colleagues to offer feedback and input on the candidates so trustees can make the best decision.

Board Reports

Trustee Mary Kay Rosinski reflected on the bad budget news and the prospect of deeper cuts, asking everyone to support students and each other.

Trustee Edwin Hiel attended an Academic Senate meeting last week. He said he believed by pulling together, the District would get through budget problems and see better days.

Trustee Debbie Justeson also attended the Academic Senate meeting. She said she and Hiel both benefitted from the visit.

Grossmont College Student Trustee Christopher Enders thanked the Chancellor and Governing Board for the opportunity to have lunch with state Board of Governors President Scott Himelstein. "It's not every day a student gets to do that," Enders said. He also remarked on the visit to campus by Congressman Bob Filner and his discussion about his participation in the Freedom Riders civil rights movement in 1961.

Cuyamaca College Student Trustee Charles Taylor said Associated Students members attended training in Sacramento on advocacy and networked with fellow students from over 100 other community colleges.

Gearhart Grateful for Chancellor/Classified Senate Award

Maria Gearhart, Cuyamaca College Library Senior Multi-Media Technician, received the quarterly Chancellor/Classified Senate Award. Classified Senate President Debi Miller and Dean of Learning and Technology Resources Connie Elder joined Chancellor Cindy Miles to present the award.

Elder, who nominated Gearhart, called her resourceful and creative. Gearhart helped stretch the budget to furnish the new library space by reupholstering 240 chairs and footstools. Elder said Gearhart also searched Craigslist to find the glass display cases now in the library lobby. "She is remarkably dedicated and a fabulous example of the Cuyamaca Way," Elder said.

Miles and the Classified Senate staged a conga line of faculty, staff, and students to celebrate the occasion. Miles called it the best conga line to date.

With her husband, Donald, family members, and colleagues in attendance, Gearhart tearfully thanked faculty and staff members for supporting her as a student, enabling her to graduate with honors, and then helping her get a full-time job. "For all of you who held my hand, gave me a hug, and told me I could do it, this award means a great deal," Gearhart said.

Board Actions

Item 202 California Community College Trustees 2011 Board of Directors Election

Upon the recommendation of Trustee Mary Kay Rosinski, the Governing Board voted 5-0 to cast votes for three candidates for the California Community College Trustees Board. They are Laura Casa Frier, Foothill-DeAnza CCD; Nancy Chadwick, Palomar CCD; and Pauline Larwood, Kern CCD.

Item 501 Personnel Actions

Following discussion, Governing Board members voted 5-0, with an advisory vote in favor by Student Trustee Chuck Taylor, to approve the docket item without the proposed restructuring of District Services.

Speakers Kimberly Gioscia and Chemene Chodur expressed concerns and asked that the restructuring be delayed for further investigation. Board President Bill Garrett said he was concerned that questions were being raised, and wanted to ensure that an opportunity had been provided to talk about the questions.

Chancellor Cindy Miles proposed the restructuring be withdrawn so the questions could be addressed. "Let's step back and make sure everyone understands it," Miles said. "There is no rush. Let's have this conversation. Let's make sure that people feel comfortable."

The Governing Board approved all remaining items on the agenda by consent.

From Closed Session

In closed session, by a vote of 5-0, the Board authorized the Chancellor to execute a Separation and Mutual Release Agreement with James Tarvin on the terms specified by the Board. The Board also voted 5-0 to ratify the rejection of a liability claim pending further investigation.

Chancellor's Report

Chancellor Cindy Miles discussed the impact of state funding cuts on the District budget. "I do absolutely and firmly believe and know we will get through this. But it may be one of our darkest hours," Miles said. She praised the work done at the Districtwide Strategic Planning and Budget Council. Miles encouraged everyone to talk with their representatives on the council and attend the open meetings.

Miles said almost 800 course sections will have to be cut for the 2011-2012 school year if the state Legislature fails to find a budget solution. Summer school courses will be at the bare minimum. Miles said this will total nearly 40 percent cuts to course offerings over three years.

Miles said the District is trying to insulate the impact to employees and will continue to do so. "We thank the Board for their support. As hard as it is on all of us, the hardest job of all is that of our students who are trying to get their education and move forward and we're turning them away. I'm proud of you and I thank you," Miles said.

Miles thanked the college presidents and Vice Chancellor Sue Rearic for holding budget forums.

Miles said advocacy work will continue, including statewide board representation. "Taxpayers have always taken the community colleges for granted, and now is the time to let them know how important we are," Miles said. She thanked Ernie Ewin and the Grossmont College Foundation for sponsoring the San Diego East County Chamber of Commerce First Friday Breakfast.

Staff Notes

The District warmly welcomes new employee Sara Glasgow, Director, Student Activities, Grossmont College.
