

Friends of the Heritage of the Americas Museum

As a non-profit educational foundation, the Heritage of the Americas Museum is dependent on the generosity of many friends who give to the museum in a variety of ways. Every membership helps us continue our mission. Although we sell items in the Museum Store at very reduced prices, each sale does help with our expenses. Individuals, too many to name, give donations to the museum when particular needs arise. Businesses and organizations contribute to our many programs to educate the children of the community. And our volunteers are truly the treasures of the museum without whom we could not exist. We thank all of the many friends who have supported the museum over the years, and encourage you to support the following businesses and organizations.
